This is because of my FOSS activism.

Open Data:

I have been responsible by all the open data published by João Pessoa prefecture on the last six months. Define how data will be published and make it done through Internet is my responsibility, and it is done on this web site: <http://transparencia.joaopessoa.pb.gov.br> .

I've done a lot of meetings with the government staff to make them understand the importance of publish data under open formats and to make it easier to anyone to process and understand such information. On the other hand I've developed a computer program to receive data by email messages, convert it to open formats and fill a database, making it easy to any prefecture employee to collaborate with the open data process.

Computing

I'm working with information technology in the last twenty four years. In all this time I learned about almost all areas, as hardware, operating systems, applications, development and the last ten years I've been absolutely focused in Free Software and it's "flavors".

I gave a lot of speeches in a lot of conferences talking about all the benefits of the Bazaar developing model, open source, Free Software, Open Document Formats, Open Data and the importance to bring free - as in freedom – and transparent access to technology. In this years I have not only talked about it, but I have developed FOSS software, wrote articles, did translations and coordinated conferences to make easier to people to use and understand Free Software.

My personal project, KyaPanel, for example: I started it in 2004, and it have thousands of downloads and it is used in a lot of companies and governments around the world. So, do Apache, Postfix, Courier, OpenLDAP, Samba, Nagios, VSFTP, HeartBeat, DRBD, PostgreSQL, MySQL, PHP and Shell Script is the base of by knowledge.
